CONTRIBUTE TO YOUR 401(k) & IRA

- For many retirement savers, these are the highest-income years of their careers
- This is the time to contribute the maximum amounts possible to your employer's retirement plan, IRA accounts and the like
- While these contributions will not have the years to compound as those made in your 20s and 30s, every bit helps

GATHER INFO FOR ALL OF YOUR RETIREMENT ACCOUNTS

- It's not uncommon for someone to have worked at a half dozen or more jobs throughout their career

- This is in addition to your Social Security benefits

5

DETERMINE HOW MUCH YOU WILL NEED TO RETIRE

- It would be nice to say that retirement planning is as easy as “save a million dollars or invest 10% of your salary and you’re going to be fine”
- But retirement planning needs to be personalized
- To start your planning, here are a few common rules of thumb to finding a magic retirement number

5

DETERMINE HOW MUCH YOU WILL NEED TO RETIRE

RULE OF THUMB	APPROXIMATE AMOUNT
Your pre-retirement income x 10 to 14	$1,000,000 to $1,400,000
70% to 80% of your annual working income	$1,400,000 to $1,600,000 (assuming 20 years in retirement)
Your desired annual retirement income x 25	$2,500,000 if you want your retirement income to match your working income

5

DETERMINE HOW MUCH YOU WILL NEED TO RETIRE

However, the amount that you need to save for retirement really depends on your situation and expectations

VARIABLES TO CONSIDER

Will you be moving or downsizing your house?

Will you be debt-free by the time you retire?

Will you have parents or adult children to support?

5

DETERMINE HOW MUCH YOU WILL NEED TO RETIRE

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO LIVE?

- This is the time to start making some choices about how you will live in retirement and, more importantly, to put some dollar figures onto this lifestyle
- Another way to say this is to start thinking in terms of a retirement budget

5

DETERMINE HOW MUCH YOU WILL NEED TO RETIRE

There are many retirement calculators online that can give you an idea of whether your plans for retirement are realistic or not

5

DETERMINE HOW MUCH YOU WILL NEED TO RETIRE

Most retirement projection tools will ask you to input:

- Your retirement plan assets
- Any pensions
- Social Security
- Other investments

Based on variables such as your investment allocation and other factors, these tools will give you an idea of how much retirement cash flow your resources might be able to support

While you might not like the answer you get, it's better to know ahead of time that you will have a potential shortfall in your retirement cash flow

SEEK PROFESSIONAL ADVICE

This might be a good point to find a competent fee-only financial advisor to assist you

Besides their expertise, a qualified advisor can add a detached third-party perspective to your retirement planning
